Russian Literature will open a new field to most American readers, giving typical translations in English and an insight into the Russian genius as expressed by writers of different periods. The author of this volume has already put Chautauquans under obligations. She prepared the seventy-two page Chautauqua Special Course pamphlet on Russian Literature which is, so far as we know, the only publication of its kind--an invaluable guide to students who wish to specialize on this subject. Two articles on Russian Women which appeared in The Chautauquan in 1901 gave information of leadership in progress which western women might envy. Miss Hapgood is Boston born and a graduate of Miss Porter s School at Farmington, Connecticut. By travel and study she became a recognized authority on Russian topics. She is the author of Epic Songs of Russia and Russian Rambles, and she has translated many volumes of Tolstoy and other Russian writers. Numerous translations from Spanish, Italian, and French include works of Palacio-Valdes, Cuore, Hugo, Renan, and Baron Pierre de Coubertin, The fourth book is a popular work on Ecology, that is, the various relations of animals and plants to one another, and to the outside world. The Botanical Gazette says: Under the somewhat uncertain...
