Reviews

This type of publication is every thing and helped me seeking ahead and much more. It usually fails to charge too much. It is extremely difficult to leave it before concluding, once you begin to read the book.

Silly boy! he is very angry over these marks, but he seems never to learn that honesty is much the best policy. But all the others are so correct that Mrs. MLain feels quite proud of their preparation for the Sabbath-school. On Sunday morning. Mrs. Lee is ready for them in her dining room, and just at the-hour she hears the wagon wheels coming, then Christies voice, and she knows Sam and Eddie are not far off. Alice has the Bible on the table, and the hymn books. This is always her part of the preparation, and she loves to do it, asit makes her feel quite like a woman, older, I dare say, than her mother. The first thing, when they are all seated, is to sing. How children love singing. These would be willing to spend the whole hour so if Mrs. Lee would allow it. Faith has a very clear, sweet voice, and an uncommonly good ear for music. She is a great addition to their choir, and Mrs. Lee begins to depend upon her to lead even now. There are a few hymns of which the children never tire. They would sing them over and over again, and each time like them better than they did the last. This morning they are to sing-Glory to the Father give, God in whom we move and live! Ohildrens prayers he deigns to hear, Childrens songs delight his ear. Glory to...
